Transition from School to Community

If your child is on an IEP and is 13 years of age, it is now time to start thinking about the transition from school to community. At age 14, a transition plan is required in the IEP. Between age 14 and 16, the team will begin discussing transition and writing goals with this in mind.

You can begin working now to move forward on other aspects of daily living: income, employment, health coverage, and other support services. It's never too early to make plans for your child's future. Here are some recommendations:

Finances/Income

To get Social Security Children's benefits, a child must have:

- A parent(s) who is disabled or retired and entitled to Social Security benefits; or
- A parent who died after having worked long enough in a job where he or she paid Social Security taxes.

The child also must be:

- Unmarried;
- Younger than 18;
- 18-19 years old and a full-time student (no higher than grade 12); or 18 or older and disabled. (The disability must have started before age 22.)

Another type of benefit is Supplemental Security Income (SSI). SSI makes monthly payments to people with low income and limited resources who are 65 or older, or blind or disabled. Your child under age 18 can qualify if he or she meets Social Security's definition of disability for children, and if his or her income and resources fall within the eligibility limits. Prior to attainment of age 18, the parent(s) income is also considered when determining eligibility.

Health Care/Insurance

If your child is covered under your medical insurance, check with the company to see AT WHAT AGE your child will no longer be covered. Coverage may end at a certain age or when they leave school.

One problem with losing SSI at age 18 (or when leaving school) is that you may ALSO LOSE MEDICAID. If your child requires uninterrupted medical coverage, you may not want to allow their Medicaid to lapse, and may want to ensure their adult Social Security application is completed six months before then.

Apply for the Ohio Home Care Waiver through Job & Family Services if your child either needs assistance to live independently or needs services like home health care, accessibility, nursing care, and respite.

The Affordable Care Act provides new funding to state Medicaid programs that choose to cover preventive services for patients at little or no cost. It also prohibits discrimination due to pre-existing conditions. The law also eliminates the ability of insurance companies to charge higher rates due to gender or health status. There are also tax credits available for low income families. Americans who earn less than 13% of the poverty level are eligible to enroll in Medicaid. For more information visit www.healthcare.gov.

Employment

A referral to the Opportunities for Ohioans with Disabilities (or OOD) can be made at age 14. If you have goals related to employment, make sure OOD is invited to your IEP meetings. Referrals go to the Columbus OOD front desk at 614-466-4575, they will determine who you should contact and then give you that information or schedule you.

DD (Developmental Disabilities)

Once your child becomes eligible for the Fairfield County Board of Developmental Disabilities (DD), your child's ISC can provide service coordination and also link you to community resources that may benefit your child and assist in the employment process.

For Community Connection Services, call your ISC for a referral to the Community Connections Coordinator or refer to www.fairfielddd.com and scroll down through the Home page for a calendar of events and opportunities as well as links to additional resources. You may also be interested in joining "Parent2gether", a private Facebook page for parents and supporter of people with disabilities.

The Fairfield County Board of DD also offers Family Support Services which covers items and services needed by the family to maintain the child within the home, and is available as long as the child is living with family. Get in-home respite services through the Fairfield County Board of Developmental Disabilities. Contact Susan Barnett at 614-835-2700.

Mental Health

If your child or adolescent receives case management they will NOT necessarily qualify for case management as an adult. You may want to begin the conversation now about who will follow your child. If your child may need to see a psychiatrist, remember there is often a waiting list for that service.

Contact SOCIL (740-689-1494) for linkage to agencies.

Transportation

Your child can, with your help, learn to use public transit independently. Contact Lancaster Public Transit at 740-681-5086 to apply for Mobility Passport.

If your child receives services through OOD they may help with the cost of driver education. If there are any questions about your child's ability to drive, it is usually a medical doctor who makes the final decision.

Drivers training and vehicle modification assessments are available at OSU -Dodd Hall at 614-293-3833 for an hourly fee.

Refer to page 27 of this manual for transportation options.

Financial Skills

OSU Extension offers some several kinds of budgeting education. The Southeastern Ohio Center for Independent Living (or SOCIL) offers basic finance class.

If you have access to a computer, there are a number of online resources that teach financial skills, including "Practical Money Skills," "Money Pals: Being Cool with Cash," and "I Know Where I'm Going (But Will My Cash Keep Up?)"

If you search online for FDIC Money Smart, you can find a "free, award-winning financial education program created to help adults develop money-management skills." And one version is a self-paced computer program!

Facts Regarding Your Child's Status

At 18 years a child becomes an adult and can legally make their own decisions.

Upon 22 year birth date a child must exit school.

Private health insurance ceases to cover a child at 25 years based on school status.

Waiting lists for housing and other supports have waiting time of years.

Gateways to Benefits

Social Security Office

www.ssa.gov

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits for adults disabled since childhood:

The SSDI program pays benefits to adults who have a disability that began before they became 22 years old. This SSDI benefit is considered as a "child's" benefit because it is paid on a parent's Social Security earnings record.

For an adult with a disability to become entitled to this "child" benefit, one of his or her parents:

- Must be receiving Social Security retirement or disability benefits; or
- Must have died and have worked long enough under Social Security.

These benefits also are payable to an adult who received dependents benefits on a parent's Social Security earnings record prior to age 18, if he or she is disabled at age 18. The disability decision is made using the disability rules for adults.

SSDI "child" benefits continue as long as the individual remains disabled. A child does not need to have worked to get these benefits.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments for children with disabilities:

SSI makes monthly payments to people with low income and limited resources who are 65 or older, or blind or disabled. A child under age 18 can qualify if he or she meets Social Security's definition of disability for children, and if his or her income and resources fall within the eligibility limits. The amount of the SSI payment is different from one state to another because some states add to the SSI payment. Your local Social Security office can tell you more about your state's total SSI payment.

How Social Security Decides if You have a Disability:

- 1. If you are not working or if you are working and making less than $1,130 a month.
- 2. If your condition significantly limits your ability to do basic work-related activities, such as lifting, standing, walking, sitting, or remembering for at least 12 months.
- 3. If your condition is found in the list of disabling conditions? For each of the major body systems, Social Security maintains a list of medical conditions that they consider severe enough that it prevents a person from doing substantial gainful activity.

- 4. Can you do the work you did previously? Do your medical impairment(s) prevent you from performing any of your past work?
- 5. Can you do any other type of work? If you can't do the work you did in the past, we look to see if there is other work you could do despite your medical impairment(s).

Also, considered are medical conditions, age, education, past work experience, and any transferable skills. If you can't do other work, we'll decide you are disabled. If you can do other work, we'll decide that you don't have a qualifying disability and your claim will be denied.

Medicare

www.medicare.gov or www.cms.gov

Medicare is a health insurance program for:

people age 65 or older, people under age 65 with certain disabilities, and people of all ages with End-Stage Renal Disease (permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant).

Medicare Part D & Extra Help

Medicare beneficiaries can apply for Extra Help with their Medicare Part D prescription drug coverage. Eligibility requirements have changed, some things no longer count as income and resources.

- Life insurance policies no longer count as a resource
- Help you receive regularly from someone else to pay your household expenses—food, mortgage, rent, heating fuel or gas, electricity, water, and property taxes; no longer count as income

The "Community Services" unit determines eligibility for Medicaid, food stamps, assistance with Medicare expenses, disability assistance for adults with a disability with no minor children in the home and for aged individuals. Determines eligibility for passport and waiver services as well as Medicaid for nursing home residents. JFS staff may also act as an SSI advocate to guide an individual with a disability through the Social Security system in an effort to get benefits approved.

Medicaid www.cms.hhs.gov

Medicaid is health insurance that helps many people who can't afford medical care pay for some or all of their medical bills. Medicaid is available only to people with limited income. You must meet certain requirements in order to be eligible for Medicaid. Medicaid does not pay money to you; instead, it sends payments directly to your health care providers.

Home and Community Based Services Waivers

https://medicaid.ohio.gov/for-ohioans/programs/hcbs-waivers

Home and Community Based Services Waivers provide alternatives to institutional long-term care. Without waivers many consumers would live in a hospital, nursing home, or Institutional Care Facility for the Mentally Retarded (ICF/MR)

Medicaid Buy-In for Workers with Disabilities https://medicaid.ohio.gov/FOR-OHIOANS/Programs/MBIWD

The Medicaid Buy-In for Workers with Disabilities (MBIWD) program allows individuals with disabilities who are working to qualify for Medicaid with higher income and resource limits, and buy into Medicaid by paying a reasonable premium based on income.

Ohioans between the ages of 16 and 64 with a disability (as defined by the Social Security Administration) who are earning up to 250 percent of the Federal Poverty Level are eligible. Individuals with higher incomes should still apply because income disregards, deductions, credits, and work expenses are considered in determining financial eligibility.

Asset Development

Three Myths Regarding People with Disabilities and Asset Development

1. People with disabilities are unable to work.

TRUTH: Work produces income which is the first step towards saving and building assets.

2. People with disabilities have all their needs met by their special programs.

TRUTH: People with disabilities want to reduce their reliance on government benefits and have more freedom and independence.

3. People with disabilities can't be expected to save and build assets.

TRUTH: People with disabilities want a better economic future. They are starting businesses and becoming homeowners.

The best ways to begin building assets:

1) Go to work. People receiving Social Security benefits should meet with their local:

- Work Incentives Planning and Assistance (WIPA) representative in order to understand how working and saving may impact their benefits. Also contact WIPA to better understand how to utilize certain tools such as a Plan for Achieving Self-Sufficiency (PASS) or Medicaid Buy-In in order to achieve your financial goals. Your WIPA representative is at the COVA office at 1-877-521-2682.
- 2) Develop a savings account.
 - Contact your local banker or credit union to establish a cost free savings account.
- 3) Develop a STABLE account (www.stableaccount.com)

A STABLE Account is an investment account available to eligible individuals with disabilities allowing them to save and invest money without losing eligibility for Medicaid, SSI, or SSDI. Funds in a STABLE account are not subject to tax as long as the funds are spent on "Qualified Disability Expenses".

STABLE accounts have some similar features to normal bank accounts, but they are not checking or savings accounts. STABLE accounts are investment accounts, similar to 529 college savings accounts or 401k retirement accounts. When you deposit money into your STABLE account, your money will be invested in different options that you choose. While you can still withdraw and spend your money whenever you need it, STABLE accounts also allow you to grow your money and to save long-term for disability expenses. With a STABLE account you can get a STABLE Card which is a loadable prepaid debit card. The STABLE card does not pull money directly out of your STABLE account; instead you get to choose a specific amount of money to load onto your card. This way, you can better control budgets and plan for your Qualified Disability Expenses. If you are a parent or other authorized legal representative for a loved one's STABLE account, you can also request a companion card for that individual. The STABLE card's discrete loading feature allows you to limit how much money your loved one can access at any given time.

You can use your STABLE card to spend money anywhere MasterCard is accepted. Although it is a loadable card, it works just like a regular debit card. There are qualifying expenses for the STABLE account, however it can be used for expenses besides "qualifying expenses" but it will count as taxable income and there is an additional 10% tax.

For more information visit the STABLE website listed above.

4) Look at other ways to supplement income:

Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC):

The EITC is the largest federal support program for low-income individuals and families. The EITC is a refundable credit. What this means is that if you qualify based on your income, even when you have no tax liability, you will receive a tax refund. You must file your taxes to receive this refund, even if you do not have any tax liability. For more information please visit the following website: https://www.irs.gov/credits-deductions/individuals/earnedincome-tax-credit

The EITC has no effect on certain welfare benefits. In most cases, EITC payments will not be used to determine eligibility for Medicaid, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), food stamps, low-income housing or most Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) payments.

FIVE MYTHS OF THE EARNED INCOME TAX CREDIT (EITC)

- You have to be married or have children to be eligible. FALSE
- You have to owe taxes to be eligible. FALSE
- You do not have to file to get your tax refund. FALSE
- The EITC refund will impact my other public benefits. FALSE
- You cannot be self-employed and receive the EITC. FALSE

• Questions about qualifying for the EITC

To learn whether an individual is eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit they can access the link above and answer some questions and provide basic income information. The program will also assist in determining correct filing status, determining whether child(ren) meet the tests for a qualifying child, and estimate the amount of credit an individual may receive.

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program:

The VITA Program offers free tax help to low- to moderate-income (generally, $42,000 and below) people who cannot prepare their own tax returns. Certified volunteers sponsored by various organizations receive training to help prepare basic tax returns in communities across the country. VITA sites are generally located at community and neighborhood centers, libraries, schools, shopping malls, and other convenient locations. Most locations also offer free electronic filing.

To locate the nearest VITA site, call 1-800-829-1040 or:

Contact your local United Way office or Visit https://www.irs.gov/individuals/free-tax-return-preparation-for-you-by-volunteers

5) Expand Your Financial Literacy Skills:

Helps low-income families and individuals in Fairfield County obtain suitable and affordable housing through the Housing Choice Voucher Program, a long-term rental assistance program. An individual that receives a Voucher rents a home on the private market (owned by someone other than the Housing Authority). On this program you are responsible to locate your own rental unit. The rent that the household is responsible for is based on a percentage of the income for the entire household. The Housing Authority will pay the remainder of the rent directly to the landlord.

To be placed on the waiting list for assistance you must complete a pre-application card. You can receive a pre-application by any of the following:

- You may call our office and one will be mailed to you
- Stop in our office during office hours and they are in the lobby
- E-mail our office and request one be mailed to you.

Legal Issues/Advocacy

Guardianship

A child automatically becomes their own legal guardian upon age 18 years. Any court intervention to alter this status takes approximately 3 months.

There are new rules impacting guardianship in Ohio effective June 1, 2015. The new rules require training, monitoring and background checks and say that guardians must meet with their wards at least every three months.

For details on the guardianship processes go to: Disability Rights Ohio www.disabilityrightsohio.org (1-800-282-9181)

Alternatives to Guardianship

Guardianship is a serious step that interferes with many or all of the legal interests and rights of the person with a disability. Rethink the need for guardianship in its traditional purpose and assist people to find the assistance they need in making decisions and managing their lives using the same resources available to all community members. Reject the idea that because a person has an intellectual or physical disability, he or she is automatically incompetent and requires a guardian. Understand that all people receive assistance from family, friends and/or paid professionals when making major life decisions. Support people to put alternatives to guardianship in place, preferably prior to the need for such assistance:

- Representative Payeeship: If the only significant income an individual receives is a monthly Supplemental Security Income check, it may not be necessary for the person to have a guardian of the estate. A representative payee may be able to handle relevant financial matters for the person.
- Power of Attorney: Signed by a competent person, it authorizes another person to act on his or her behalf in certain acts and/or certain periods of time.
- Trust: In a trust, a trustee holds and manages money or property for the benefit of the person.

There have been changes in laws regulating trusts in recent years. This is a summary of those changes.

- Except for good cause shown or disqualification, the court must appoint a guardian in accordance with the individual's most recent guardian nomination in their Power of Attorney.
- In certain situations, a private settlement agreement can be used to modify the terms of a trust without court involvement.

- A trustee can, under certain circumstances, distribute the assets of one trust into another trust with substantially similar administrative provisions and beneficiaries. This practice is commonly referred to as trust decanting.
- When a beneficiary named in a trust dies before the testator/grantor, and the testator/grantor does not clearly state the gift is invalid in such event, the gift will instead be distributed to the lineal descendants of the beneficiary, if the beneficiary was a grandparent, descendant of a grandparent or a step-child of the testator/grantor.
- Conservatorship: A person who is mentally competent but has a physical disability may ask a court to appoint a conservator to handle specific matters.

If a person already has a guardian, make every effort to assure that the guardianship is limited and specific in scope. Review at least annually and request the guardianship be relinquished as soon as other supports are in place. When choosing a lawyer always make sure the lawyer is familiar with public policy as it pertains to persons with disabilities.

Consumers in the Ohio Home Care Program https://myohiohcp.org/#/

This site provides a directory of providers in your area. It explains the various services available to the consumer.

There are generally three types of home care providers:

- Agency Providers,
- Waiver Service Providers, and
- Non-Agency Providers.

Agency Providers are companies that have a provider agreement with the ODJFS and have been issued a Medicaid Provider Number. Agencies are the employer of the individuals performing the in-home services.

Waiver Services Providers are companies that provide the additional services available only to Waiver consumers. The individuals that deliver meals, install emergency response systems, or etc are employees of that business.

Non-Agency providers are individuals that obtain a Medicaid Provider Number from the ODJFS. They are then eligible to provide home care services directly to the consumer. These individuals have signed a Medicaid Provider Agreement so they are self-employed.

Non-waiver consumers
